Book a Spring Tour

I enjoy offering custom trolley tours to groups visiting Muskogee. I can create a tour around a specific theme or give just a general history of the area. I also offer step-on guide service for buses (including church vans) coming to Muskogee.

Read about my tours at my website okieheritage.com, then give me a call to set up a fascinating tour of Muskogee interesting sites, beautiful old neighborhoods and tourist attractions.

Worry does not empty tomorrow of sorrows. It empties today of strength.

Author Supports Restoration Efforts

The University of Tulsa hosted best-selling author Steve Berry at a book signing at Gilcrease Museum on Tuesday, April 5 to lend support for the restoration of the Alice Robertson House.

Steve Berry is the New York Times bestselling author of fourteen spy thrillers each set in a historic locale. History is Berry's passion, shared with his wife, Elizabeth, which led them to create History Matters, a foundation dedicated to historic preservation.

The Alice Robertson Historic Home Restoration Project was the beneficiary of Berry's visit to Tulsa. Organizers plan to restore the Robertson House and use it as a historic tool to educate the public about Miss Alice Robertson and her family.

Please consider making a tax-deductible donation to our cause. Checks should be made payable to Founders' Place and mailed to P.O. Box 3827, Muskogee, OK 74402. Or visit savinghistorichouses.com
